

Research Conversations 2025

Glacier Creek Preserve
14810 State St.
Bennington, NE 68007

8 March 2025 – Saturday

9:00 am to ca 2:00 pm

Faculty – Staff – Students – Interested Public

Research Conversations is an opportunity for those conducting research at Glacier Creek Preserve to share with other investigators either results of their efforts to date or plans for future research. For others, the event is an opportunity to learn about the kinds of research being conducted at the Preserve. The event is also intended to provide a venue to encourage discussions among those attending for possible future projects. Among research topics this year are those on hydrobiogeochemical processes, land use impacts on critical zones, and distribution, diversity, and habitat use of biota.

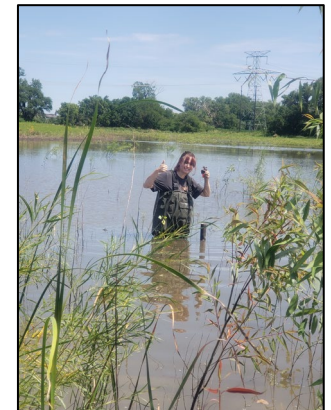

Coffee – Juice – Snacks starting at 8:30 am

Pizza served around 12:30 pm

RSVP appreciated but not required.
